Task Force of Clark County High Capacity Transit Study meets Monday

Clark County, Washington – The Task Force of the Clark County High Capacity Transit (HCT) System Study meets again on Monday, January 21 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the Clark County Elections Building, 1408 Franklin St., Vancouver, WA. The Task Force will review the technical analysis for the Interstate 5 / Highway 99, Interstate 205, and Chelatchie Prairie corridors, as well as receive a presentation on the corridor evaluation matrix used to help determine which corridors will be recommended for inclusion in the Clark County High Capacity Transit System Plan. All members of the public are welcome to attend.

The Task Force is a group of fourteen representatives from a range of community interests, including local colleges, businesses, neighborhood associations, environmental groups, health and safety organizations, building trade associations, education, transit users, and youth and leadership councils. The Clark County HCT System Study is evaluating various HCT transit technologies and travel corridors in Clark County to determine which will best meet the future transit needs of county residents.

Please join us at the Task Force meeting:
