Task Force of Clark County High Capacity Transit Study meets Monday

Clark County, WA – The Task Force of the Clark County High Capacity Transit (HCT) System Study meets again on Monday, May 19, at 6:30 p.m. at the Clark County Public Service Center, 1400 Franklin St., Vancouver, WA. Attendees will meet in the 6th Floor Training Room. The Task Force will review potential high capacity transit system plan scenarios and begin to evaluate how well different combinations of transit modes and alignments could serve Clark County's transit needs. All members of the public are welcome to attend the meeting.

The Task Force is a group of fourteen representatives from a range of community interests, including local colleges, businesses, neighborhood associations, environmental groups, health and safety organizations, building trade associations, education, transit users, and youth and leadership councils. The Clark County HCT System Study is evaluating various HCT transit technologies and travel corridors in Clark County to determine which will best meet the future transit needs of county residents.

Please join us at the Task Force meeting:

May 19, 2008, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.
