

Study Name: Washington County Transportation Future Study

Lead Agency: Washington County (OR)

General Description: Washington County began this Study in 2014 and released the Final Report in early 2017. The Study identified alternative transportation investments and evaluated how well they might address our future challenges in meeting mobility, connectivity, safety, efficiency, health, equity, and other values important to the community. The conclusions of the Study will help WA county residents, businesses and elected officials find areas of agreement and set transportation priorities for further evaluation and refinement.
